DRILL TEAM KICKS OFF

From Mrs. Lois Curtis to Ms. Judith Brooks to Ms. Lisa Hermann, the CB Drill Team has gone through some changes these past years. Their first performance was Saturday, September 28th. They did a good job, considering it was their first time with Ms. Hermann as their instructor. They can be seen at the half-times of the Varsity football games, played at our home stadium, American River College.

For those of you who don't know what the Drill Team is, this group of students show their school spirit by performing routines at the games—but, they're not really like cheerleaders. Only the president and vice president get to yell. The officers keep the team in line before they get on the field because the rest of the team isn't allowed to move or talk when they're waiting to perform.

During football season, the girls do military-style routines, with ripples and shape formations. They look really coordinated on the field. For basketball season, they use more dance steps because of the smaller audience and performing area.

Senior Lisa Collins is the president of the Drill Team. "This group is definitely going to be more productive than last year."

Drill Team Historian
Deering agrees. "We are im-very much. And we also dedicated teacher."

The class is an hour and a half but Ms. Hermann spends about hours doing the choreography, coordinating music, among things. She likes the high school

RE: Drill Team

I want to take this opportunity to formally congratulate you on the fine work that you have done with the Drill Team this year. Historically, the Drill Team at CBS has been associated with the work of one lady, the energetic and devoted Lois Curtis. Unfortunately, as is the case in so many instances, when such a person leaves an organization, the program weakens and, possibly, dies. At CBS, the Drill Team did go through a rough transition period, but since that time, you have managed to start to rebuild the program. We have a lot of new, younger females in the program, and I am sure that their numbers will start to increase in the future. The success of this year's Drill Team is a natural recruitment tactic.

The Drill Team's performance at the Holy Bowl last Saturday, a performance given under the most adverse conditions, was very good. I was in the Press Box, nice and dry, watching the performance with both the Bishop of Sacramento and the President of Jesuit High School, and both men were very impressed with the performance of our girls. Please convey to the Drill Team my sincere congratulations on their performances this past football season.

Once again, Lisa, thank you for your positive contribution to the work of Christian Brothers.
