T. Steinback, L. Berry, H. Nunes Win War Savings Bonds At Annual Turkey Whist At Christian Brothers

Santos, Ahern, Adams Led School In Annual Turkey Raffle Contest

Threatening rain couldn't keep away the crowd that gathered in the school gymnasium and class rooms for the annual turkey whist last Monday night. Interest seemed to be centered in the numerous prizes displayed on the stage yet a still more tense enthusiasm was noticeable as the time approached to draw the winning numbers for the United States War Bonds.

Ted Steinback of 3401, 5th Avenue won the $50 war bond; L. Berry of 730 45th Street and Henry Nunes of 2514 V Street won the two $25 war bonds. John Santos of the eighth grade sold fifty-six (56) raffle books for this benefit whist. With this money, many improvements will be made throughout the school and im-

Curriculum Revised To Meet War Effort

Since early in 1942 army officials have been amazed at the number of draftees who have not been able to pass the intelligence test because they are deficient in the three R's. This fact is attributed to the weakness in the school system and as a result the government asked the schools to change their systems so that reading, writing, arithmetic, and physical development could be stressed.

Juniors and Seniors have found their studies this term to be much harder than ever before, due to the extra amount of study necessary.

The same thing holds true for gym. Now that eighteen year olds are to be drafted, Coach John Ginnonni has been teaching them the
