

Christian Brothers High School graduating seniors, from left, Patrick Fitzgerald, James Delgadillo and Matthew Boyd, practice for graduation. All three students will attend Stanford University in the fall.

Three Christian Brothers graduates to reunite at Stanford

By Herald staff

Patrick Fitzgerald, James Delgadillo, and Matthew Boyd have something in common in addition to the fact that all three were honors students at Sacramento's Christian Brothers High School prior to their graduation May 28.

The three graduates will be classmates again next fall at Stanford University in Palo Alto.

Boyd is the son of Harold and Marilynne Boyd. His activities at Christian Brothers include being senior class treasurer, membership in the National Honor Society and California Scholarship Federation, earning several Most Valuable Player awards in sports and working as a volunteer for three years at St. Hope Academy in Sacramento. Boyd is considering majoring in international business. Delgadillo, the son of Stella and Jaime Delgadillo, is a member of St. Anthony Parish in Sacramento.

The Christian Brothers' senior class president was the president and founder of the Big Brothers Club, a member of the jazz choir, a multiple sport athlete and participated in school drama productions.

Delgadillo plans to major in pre-medicine at Stanford and hopes to become a pediatrician.

Fitzgerald is the son of Don and Kathy Fitzgerald and member of Holy Spirit Parish in Sacramento.

A lifetime member of the National Honor Society and member of the California Scholarship Federation, Fitzgerald is a National Merit Program Commended Scholar, earned the Christian Brothers President's Award for Educational Excellence, and was a Schwab Rosenhouse Foundation Scholarship finalist.

Fitzgerald has not yet declared a major at Stanford.