An extra newspaper article from Terrence O'Brian

Fans attending the Clifton-Brothers Elk Grove basketball game last Friday night got their dollars' worth, at least in one. How happy officials called a phenomenal 64 fouls which may qualify for the Guinness Book of Records. . . . The game ended sometime Saturday morning when both teams passed out while lying around the foul line area. The final buzzer went off two minutes later, awaiting the scorer, who was the last remaining spectator. . . . From 8:24 until the end of the game CBS led to the Tranceing Rock (somewhat less thunderous without Bill Carter) by just two points. . . . The only
