Kenneth: Well, what can I say? I can't believe that these 4 years of my life has gone by so fast. It's funny, and it really still hasn't hit me yet. Anyway, I'm really glad that I got the opportunity to get to know you because, whether you realize it or not, you really helped me to put my life in perspective. You're one of the few adults that understand how difficult it is to be a teenager these days. As much as Mr. Muffin loves us, it really helps knowing there's someone to turn to if I have problems. Thanks for putting up with all my BS and get a new dog! It sucks. See ya later! Love, Leah C. Henne

CHRISTIAN BROTHERS HIGH SCHOOL

Spirit Week

Once again the students and Faculty got to show their pride and spirit. This year's Homecoming Spirit week was ... well, spirited. The seniors tidal-waved the rest of the classes with their spirit and gained control of the coveted Spirit Stick. The combined lunches brought together the upper and lower divisions as did the lunch time competitions. The week also included the annual Night Rally on Thursday and the Teacher talent show on Friday afternoon, both incredibly hilarious. The week closed with the Homecoming game Friday night and the dance entitled "Medieval Masquerade".

The Senior girls' football team goes on to win the Powder Puff Tournney ...
Lavell looks sweet in his pajamas while Lindsey looks tough in her sleep wear ...
Eric Jones and his date out a rug at the Dance ...
Brother Warren's Drill Team makes another demand appearance ...
Lee Sapador and his pretty companion work diligently at their task ...
Jess and Katie focus in on Avery's winning game plan ...
the teacher relay team struggles with the obstacle course ...
Catherine Siu and Maria Brosterhaus look for a pot of honey to fill their tummies.

Night Rally

 Josh Calista gets in touch with his feminine side ... the Cheerleaders liven things up ... Judge It takes time out of his busy schedule to judge the night rally ... Melissa is crowned with the grace and charm of any princess ... "Hey somebody stole MY shoe..."

Medieval

Clock wise from top left: The Junior's gallant steed takes a lunch break ... While they challenge them to a duel for third ... Sir Falcon of CB defends the mighty Senior float. Magician Lazenby casts a spell over his Falcon Knights to help them become swift of feet. The Freshman float is more than worthy of second place.

Masquerade

Smiles and magic fill the night.

Our Final Grains Of Sand

... and now our hourglass is empty; our time has run out. The four years we have spent together, the good and the bad, have slipped through our fingers as did the grains of sand in the glass. There are those of us who embrace the emptiness with a courage and a boldness seeking to fill the emptiness with the new sands of our future. There are those of us who wish to see past the emptiness yet still cannot. When we walk up to receive our diploma, either we will know which way to go which path of life to take. Or we may not.

We gaze at the spent sand and think of our time as awed freshmen worshipping towering upper classmen. We are now the oldest and the wisest, or so we think. It is our turn to be the class who leaves. The class so ready to leave. There are those of us who will still linger, clutching to the last grains of sand. Eventually, we will all have to let go and travel individual paths of life that had crossed for four years and may hopefully one day cross again.

A new hourglass has begun to spill its sand; the hourglass we call adulthood. We may not realize that our time has begun to spill through the hourglass. Whether they are full of sand or only carry a few grains or whether the sand spills quickly or slowly, we must remember to live out each moment and carry with us the lessons learned from the first hourglass into the second hourglass of adulthood.

Senior Liturgy

As the class of 1996 gathered at the Cathedral of the Blessed Sacrament on October 24, 1995, many of them realized that their last year of high school was quickly flashing before their eyes. During the sermon, many of them became aware that graduation, college, and adulthood was right around the corner.

The mass was spiritually moving and brought them closer than ever to each other. They soon would be breaking apart going their separate ways, yet they would always remember the impact of their senior liturgy.

Liturgies...

Liturgies have always been a very important addition to the Lasallian tradition of education. Christian Brothers has a unique and special style of transforming the gymnasium into a sacred atmosphere where the Eucharist is celebrated.

Ms. Paintner and Br. Kevin both teach the class that is held accountable for all of the recognition. "Prayer and Campus Ministry" class encourages student involvement in the different prayer services. Students in the class get the opportunity to assist in planning liturgies as well as in participating.

Year in Review

1) Windows '95, 2) Simpson trial, 3) Oklahoma bombing, 4) Folsom Dam, 5) McClellan AFB, 6) Pres. Clinton and House Speaker, 7) Prime Minister Rabin, 8) Flooding in Roseville, 9) Unabomber

Waterworld and Batman Forever hit the box office as the biggest blockbusters of the year. Waterworld, starring Kevin Costner, was the most expensive film ever made. They built an island out of steel in the Pacific Ocean, and this became the set for the film. Batman Forever, starring Jim Carrey and Tommy Lee Jones, was this year's top box-office draw.

The Golden Globe Awards recognized TV programming and movies for the year, including the writers, directors, actors, and actresses who were involved. The winner of the comedy series was Cybill; the winner of the drama series, Party of Five; and the winner of best motion picture was Sense and Sensibility.

We mourned and let go of some of the honorable and legendary personalities, such as: Mrs. Rose Kennedy, mother of President John F. Kennedy; Jerry Garcia, lead guitarist of The Grateful Dead; Mickey Mantle, the Yankee slugger; Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin of Israel; Mr. Dean Martin, actor and comedian; Gene Kelly, star of Singin' in the Rain; and Audrey Meadows, played the role of Alice in the Honeymooners.

Every year is jam-packed with world issues, technological advances, social issues, sporting events, birthdays, deaths, celebrations, and tragedies. Sometimes these events that become part of our everyday lives result in the shaping of and the decision making for our future.

The Bosnia War has killed some 250,000 people with millions more forced to leave their homes. The U.S. agreed to send troops as part of the NATO peace force. In late December, the first U.S. casualty was recorded when he was injured by a large mine, and another soldier kept himself alive by eating only bugs and plants.

The Federal Government was shut down in December when Congress and President Clinton reached an impasse on the federal budget. The battle centered around the Republicans insistence that the national deficit be eliminated in seven years, with Democrats and President Clinton refusing to hudge from their positions to outline funding of entitlement programs.

Tragedy struck Oklahoma City when two unstable citizens bombed a federal building killing dozens of people and injuring hundreds.

McClellan Air Force Base finally got the federal axe when it was announced that the base will close. Some ten thousand workers were affected. It was hoped the base's mission would continue through a plan to prioritize operations and jobs.

The O.J. Simpson trial was named "the most expensive and most publicized trial ever to fill the courtrooms." He was accused of and tried for the murders of Nicole Brown Simpson and Ronald Goldman. The verdict of the jury brought cheers and gasps from the audience. O.J. was acquitted in the double murder of his ex-wife and her friend. The trial had lasted almost one full year.

Windows '95 made its debut and opened many opportunities for computer users with programs like the Internet and America On-Line.

Massive storms moved in over the Sacramento Valley during 1995. The unexpectedly high winds and continuous downpours clogged drainage systems, flooding residential streets. Creeks and streams over-flowed, creating even more damage to neighborhoods. The water was as high as eight feet in some areas of Roseville.

The East Coast reaches very low temperatures in the winter months. Often it is too cold to snow. This year was different. They reached four to five feet of snow in a two day blizzard, forcing schools, businesses, and travel to come to a screeching halt.

Record rainfalls resulted in much flooding throughout the Sacramento Valley. There were some tense moments when a Folsom Dam gate broke, threatening to flush the American River over the banks.

Two American favorites among sporting events are the World Series and the Super Bowl. This year, the Atlanta Braves beat the Cleveland Indians after the 234-day strike that took place earlier in the season, the longest strike in sports history. The Dallas Cowboys beat the Pittsburgh Steelers at the XXXIV Super Bowl held in Phoenix, Arizona.

One of the funniest men around reached his 100th Birthday. Mr. George Burns, still puffing away on his cigar, celebrated his birthday earlier this year.

Mother/Son Moonlight

The theme of this year's Mother/Son Father/Daughter Dessert/Dance was Moonlight and Roses. Although it was a stormy and wet night, the students and their parents still came for a good time. With dancing in the gym, desserts in the cafeteria, and picture taking in the classrooms, people could boogie-down, mingle, or pose for the camera. Thanks to a big turn-out, the dance was a great success.

Oakridge

As I stand on the side of the decorated room, a small boy declines help in opening his Christmas gift. He is clinging to the still wrapped box. The "elves" are informed that it may be the only gift he will receive.

Santa Claus gives presents to these young children. Many are shy, but a few rattle off want lists. Little boys are chasing race cars around the room while little girls brush their dolls' hair.

I am only a bystander, a photographer. I played Santa because I purchased a gift, but as I stand here, the reality of what Christian Brothers is doing hits home. We're giving kids a Christmas they might not have had otherwise.

Mathletes is a competition team for students who enjoy a challenge in math. Students from each class level are placed on each team never just seniors in advanced math classes. A team is composed of at least one lower classman and no more than two seniors on a five person team. Each member takes three short tests of only two problems. The tests are corrected immediately and scored at each competition.

2 SIDES TO EVERY Story

"What is J.S.A.?" That is one of the most commonly questions that J.S.A.'ers encounter. Yes, it does involve some debating, but more importantly - it includes lots of fun. Members attend conventions at least twice a year with other students from all over California. These conventions offer students a great opportunity to exchange ideas with people that they may not come in contact with otherwise.

This year, the chapter was lead by president, Senior Rachael Hare, vice president, junior Austin Prim and secretary/treasurer, senior Lindsey Munro. Also worthy of praise are their patient and dedicated advisors, Mr. English and Mrs. Jenkins.

Sally WHAT?

Led by officers, President, senior Christina Holquin, Vice President, senior David Sanchez, and Secretary/Treasurer, junior Ricardo De La Cruz, the M.E.S.A. Club has had high aspirations for the year. The club wanted to expand the organization to M.E.S.A. II. The group also arranges college tours for Hispanic students interested in pursuing careers in science and engineering. Other activities included career workshops and summer activities.

Students Reaching Out is an organization for students to join if they enjoy influencing others. Members of SRO visit elementary schools to teach about drugs and their effects. They tell the students not to use illegal drugs and what can happen if they use those drugs. In order to join SRO, students must sign up the year before no freshmen are allowed, and the best candidates are chosen.

Wellspring Club

The Wellspring Women's Center was born a decade ago, primarily to serve the needs of the women and children of Oak Park. Wellspring, which was founded by Sr. Catherine and Sr. Claire, has been a place of comfort and companionship, coffee and company for thousands of women and their children. The pink and white surroundings, fresh flowers, clean and safe environment is constantly filled with women of all walks of life, all races, creeds and colors. The one rule that the sisters have is that everyone who walks through the door is to be loved unconditionally.

Christian Brothers became involved in the center in 1990 when the school turned co-educational. Several girls who had gone to Bishop Marquette High School came to Christian Brothers (when Marquette closed), and with them they brought their two years of past involvement with Wellspring. As I enter project at Marquette, several students decided to provide breakfast to the center, and what was meant to be a short project has been enduring for seven years! Today, on Tuesday and Thursday mornings you'll see young men and women flipping pancakes, scrambling eggs and enjoying each others' company as they continue the work of charity in loving and serving the poor in our midst.

Drama Club Members Make For Aspiring Thespians

The international Thespian Society is a group of dedicated individuals to the theater arts. It is through this devotion that they are able to join this society. Members must work on performances to earn points to prove that they are truly worthy. This is the difference between Drama Club and the Thespians; the drama club members are working toward their membership in the society. The work they must complete not only includes performing, but also stage craft, costumes, props and other important aspects of the theater.

The troop here at Christian Brothers continues to grow. Although a large proportion of the group graduates each year, the relatively young club is able to recruit new members easily to replace the ones that they lost.

The Drama Club is the main group in which anyone can participate. In this group, members are enabled to earn points towards their thespian induction. It is not mandatory that club members join the Thespians, although it is encouraged.

"It was a great experience putting the two one-acts."

-Elizabeth Padilla, 12

"Just being a member of a group of people that shares your interests was fun."

-Jessiac Fairbairn, 12

"Experiencing the theater with a group of friends has been exhilarating and by far the best way I can think of to experience the performing arts."

-Jeff Williams, 12

At Wit's End

You've seen the finished product, but how many of you actually know how The Literary Art Journal works? It involves a long period of waiting, selecting and finally editing.

The staff solicits submissions during the first semester. When they finally have enough poems and essays to choose from, each editor is given a copy of each submission sans the author's name. Over vacation, they read and rate each poem carefully and when they return from break, each work is discussed and decided upon.

Although choosing the written works that are to appear in the journal is a hard job, selecting which pieces of art fit the mood of different poems proves to be just as difficult. Each written piece needs to be read again very carefully and each appropriate piece of art is decided upon.

Perhaps there are some disappointed young writers and aspiring artists once the book comes out, but as you can see, selecting the works is a long and involved process, which is taken very seriously by the editors.

Intramural Basketball is great show of ballers, dunkers, and shooters. Held in the gymnasium every lunch period for a few months in the winter, Coach Ron Limeburger and Mr. Mike Costello run the intense show of talent. Teams of four players compete in intense competition for first place, and the winning team receives not only congratulations, but also t-shirts. The lower division winner plays the upper division winner in one final all-out battle.

Is this ball going in or bouncing out? You make the call!

Women's Tennis

Marie Delis
Annie Pirucello

This year's Women's Tennis team is a mosaic of teammates and their talents. The team of fifteen hard-working females went 9 and 9 in league play. The team was a young one, with over half of the women coming from lower divisions, and they needed to be taught the fundamentals. The four graduating seniors' talents were complimented by the talents of the freshmen, sophomores, and juniors.

The tennis team has many major accomplishments to boast about. The team was given the chance to play at the San Francisco tennis club this year. The team also sent two women, Heather Higgins and Jennell Groff, to the Divisional Championship. Award's flowed from the team this year. MVP went to Christina Pirucello, Most inspirational went to Jennell Groff and the Coaches award was received by Heather Higgins. Coach Holly Peterson hopes to see many more women on the team next year.

"Even though we have had to fight the rainy weather we have started out very well. The pitching of Monique Radman, Gail Soto and Erin McFarland has been excellent. The defense also has been great, especially third baseman Michelle Hom, shortstop/second baseman Monica Facio, and second baseman Celena Colin. The hitting, although not as consistent, has been timely. Sarah Davies, our senior catcher, has done an incredible job behind the plate." -Coach Joe Soto

"Never a dull moment in sports!"

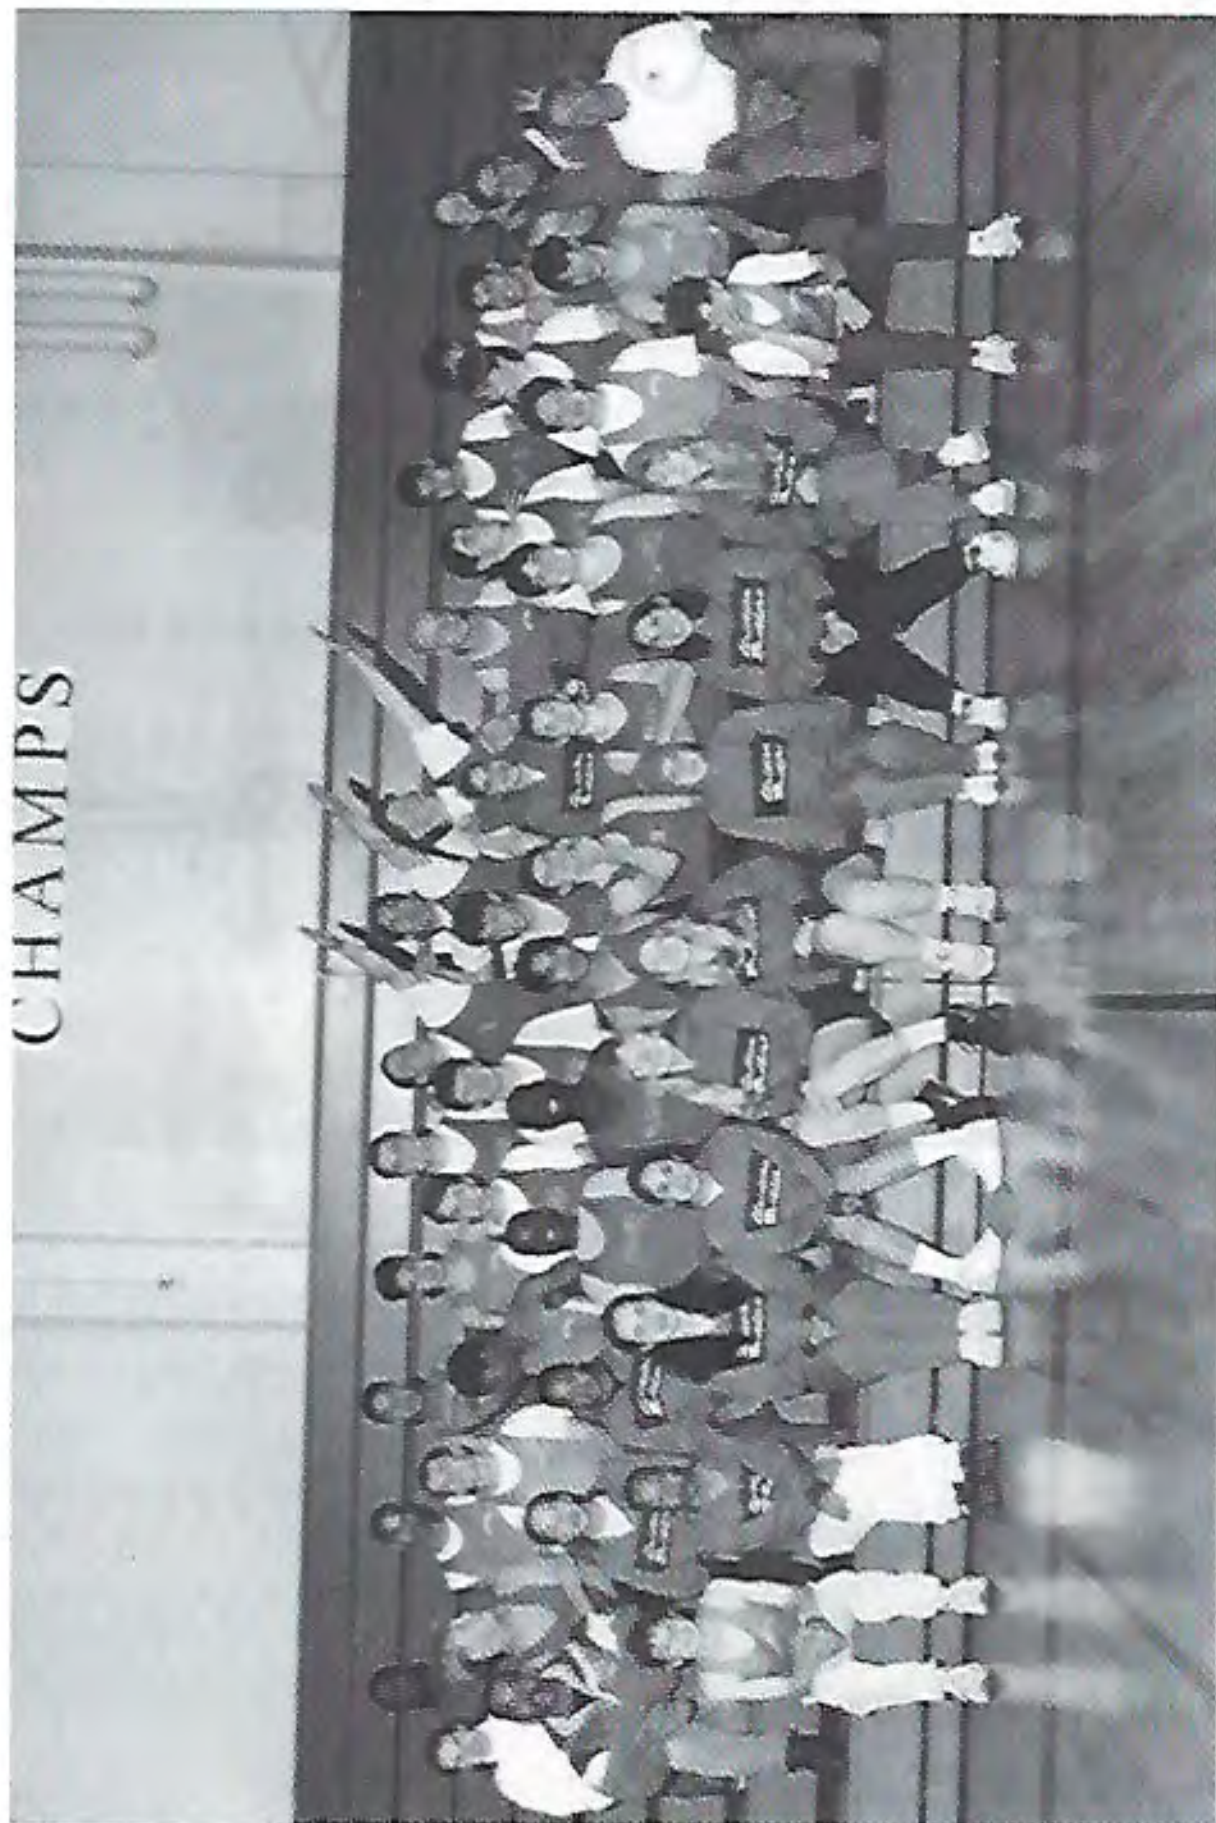

Samiya, Shannon, Matt, and Andy share laughs before their race

In a flash of red and blue, the cross country team finished their season. As the largest team in the history of C.B., we were able to have full varsity men's and women's teams, and a full freshmen men's team. We travelled all over Northern California, earning numerous medals in both the team and individual categories.

At the section meet, the Freshmen boys received second place. Michelle LaSala qualified for the State Meet in Fresno, CA. Each member of the team succeeded this year by improving his or her personal best time. Coaches Danny Delgado and Patti Smith have helped us immensely. It was a great season Kendra Galenti displays her extreme frustration about practice.

Some senior veterans show they aren't at all worried about the season.

"No, listen. My 100-free time is much faster than yours."

Justin tries to explain his skills at swimming.

"We're the beautiful ones on the team!"

"I could swim one lap before you could say, 'Wow!'"

"Swim practice was too easy. We still have so much energy."

Emily Campoy and Aimee Brown take time out from practice to show their friendly love for one another.

John says, "Finally, I'm outta here!"

Golf

Led by Seniors Marc Lee, David Domyancic, Michael Holbrook, Jeff Chorn, Garrett Lovell, Kevin Groff, Matt McKinnon, and Sergei Baranoff, C.B.'s golf team is in for an exciting season. According to Garrett, "There's a lot of depth on the team this year. We expect to win."

“Because of a low turnout for Varsity and J.V. football, we were forced to eliminate the J.V. team and incorporate our sophomores into the Varsity. This has been a year of tremendous adversity for our program, yet we were able to maintain our pride and spirit. Every school that we played was significantly larger than CB-most were more than twice our size. Although our record was a dismal one, our team represented the positive values of our school community with honor and dignity.”

This year was a productive one for the Varsity Men's Soccer Team. They won a good percentage of their league games, including an exciting victory over Kennedy. The young team (out of 22 players, 18 were juniors and one was a sophomore) also gained valuable playing experience. "This year was a rebuilding year," said Coach Vince Juarez. "Next year, we'll be even better."

The 1996 Christian Brothers Tennis team was coached by Mr. O'Brien. He set several goals for the team to reach by the end of the season. Mr. O'Brien hoped to strengthen the doubles teams and become one of the top three teams in the league. By setting goals like these, it increases the competitive spirit of the team. Also, the team celebrated all home matches with a barbecue at McKinley Park. This helps strengthen the team spirit.

J.V. VOLLEYBALL

Volleyball is many things to many people. To the freshman and sophomores of the J.V. team, it is life. Even first time players are giving their all for the team. They run, set, and spike with all the passion of the more seasoned players who are helping the newer players along. Volleyball is a sport with intense, non-stop action; so come out and watch them play. You won't be disappointed.

As time goes by, memories are sketched through our education, our teachers, our friends, and our families. These all accumulate in our hearts and minds. The yearbook staff has faithfully preserved your high school memories. This was done through many hours of hard, dedicated work. I would like to thank all those who assisted us in the production of the Fortieth Volume of The Crest. We could not have done it without you. Specifically, I would like to thank:

- Mr. Paffrath, our wonderful Jostens representative;
- Jostens for their accuracy, dedication, and hard work;
- Coronet Photography, especially Andrew and Fred for supplying us with quality pictures;
- Kim, the artist who created our cover;
- Sr. Diana for proofreading our pages;
- Mr. Witry, Ms. Clarke, Ms. Powers, and Ms. Young for their reviewing;
- Ms. Rives, Ms. Hoffart, Ms. Tosta, Ms. Bennett, Ms. Delgado, and Mr. Delgado for their help;
- Ms. Snyder, for sharing The Talon computer;
- Ms. Silian, for the use of the computers in the library;
- The Sacramento Bee for the picture used on page 120;

- Anna Williams, the Assistant Editor for all of her work and for sharing her photography skills;
 - Ms. Drucker, for her patience, and for giving us her time inside and outside the classroom. I think we all agree that you are the best advisor ever;
 - Finally, a Very Special Thanks to the yearbook staff. I must say that you were the most entertaining, dependable and creative staff an Editor could have.
- Thanks again to everyone!

Sincerely,

Lindsay Mac Parker
