Memorial has been pipeline to PGA Tour

Who will be the next Memorial Amateur participant to play his way onto the PGA Tour like Matt Bettencourt, Derek Ernst, Spencer Levin and Cameron Tringale before him?

It's impossible to say, which is one of the great things about the fickle nature of golf.

It won't be Dave Baskins, but it could be one of his playing companions. Baskins, 60, took his shot at pro golf 30-plus years ago after a stellar college career at Stanford and still loves mixing it up with the new wave.

Saturday at Ancil Hoffman, starting at 9:10 a.m., Sacramento's Baskins will tee it up in a power group that includes Cameron Champ, Hunter Rapple and Alex Edfort.

Sacramento's Champ is the seventh-ranked junior state high school championship qualifier.

■ Elk Grove's Andrej Bevins, last year's Memorial runner-up, who will play for New Mexico starting in the fall.

Sacramento's John Catlin, the winner of the past two Memorials, is competing for New Mexico in the NCAA Championships and will not play.

Tee times in the 54-hole event run from 7:30 a.m. to 9:50 a.m. Saturday and Sunday. There will be on-course leaderboards Monday, with the final group expected to finish about 2 p.m.
