

Talented 2020 class

The Class of 2020 featured big-armed pitchers like T.J. Nichols from Oakmont and speedy five-tool fielders like Chase Davis from Franklin. While The Bee isn't doing an All-Metro team this year, we can recognize where a few of the most talented seniors are going to continue their careers.

Tino Bethancourt, Oak Ridge, SS, San Diego State

Carson Blatnick, Oakmont, C, Washington

Rio Britton, Capital Christian, P, Oregon

Michael Brown, Vacaville, 1B, Washington

Clayton Coats, Lincoln, C, Sac State

Chase Davis, Franklin, OF, Arizona

Garrett Forrester, Bella Vista, INF, Oregon State

Nathan Hansen, Oak Ridge, P, San Diego State

Kevin Haynes, Granite Bay, P, Sac State

Charlie Hurley, Jesuit, P/OF, USC

CJ Hutton, Folsom, OF, UC Davis

Carson Kohls, El Camino, P, Penn State

Max Martinez, Christian Brothers, P/INF, Kansas

Brian McClellin, Vacaville, INF, Cal

TJ Nichols, Oakmont, P/INF, Arizona

Peyton Stumbo, Placer, SS, Nevada

Daniel Susac, Jesuit, C, Arizona

Cole Tremain, Vista del Lago, INF, Sac State

Landon Wallace, Roseville, C, Nevada

Luke Williams, Jesuit, INF/P, UCSB