For the past twenty-eight summers, Camp Ronald McDonald has been the home to a wonderful and inspirational organization called Camp ReCreation. Camp ReCreation of their summer to this wonderful organization. Claire White ('11) said this experience greatly influenced her life: "From my experience at Camp ReCreation, I want to pursue a career in Occupational and Music Therapy or teaching Special Ed. People with disabilities offer such joy and peacefulness and I want to make sure that they too are getting what they deserve, which is respect and admiration." At Camp ReCreation, the counselors and the campers truly do experience this joy, and over the week create an inseparable bond that lasts a lifetime. In the words of a Camp Recreation song: "Camping time, oh what fun!"

CB journeys into lip dub madness

Casey Ferreirae
Staff Writer

Last month, Christian Brothers High School took on one of its toughest challenges yet: a lip dub.

What is a lip dub? Well, it is a music video that is one continuous camera shot. Throughout the video, the main singer continues to change as new singers jump in and out of the shot. In the past two years, lip dubs have become a YouTube phenomena with schools all across the country taking on the challenge.

singers who would put in hours practicing their lyrics and their moves in front of the camera. The final task was filling the school with all our various teams and clubs to be crazy and wild in the background of the soloist singers.

Our attempt at completing a lip dub became ever harder when the song "Blame It On the Pop 2009" was chosen, a mash up of the top 25 songs of 2009. In the end, the lip dub went off great with the whole school getting pumped up and involved. Of course the lip dub could not have happened without the help of many people. A huge thanks goes out to seniors Lisa Crowl and Megan
