Mr. President, the members of the La Salle Club have elected you to lead them for the ensuing year. They have given you the greatest honor with <sup>in</sup> their power; but at the same time have placed the greatest responsibility of the club upon you. It will not only be your duty to preside at and conduct the meetings in a proper manner seeing to it that our constitution and by laws are at all times enforced; but it will also be your duty to appoint the standing committees and all special committees which the club may create by proper motion. Here <sup>in</sup> lies your great responsibility, for the success of the club depends on the committees you appoint, the incentive you give them and the cooperation which they give you. In electing you the members of the La Salle Club knew that they were electing a man who by his past efforts in behalf of the club had proven that he was both capable and willing to assume and successfully carry out the arduous duties that I now place upon you. The club wishes you every good fortune in your office.

Mr. Vice President, your duties will be to assume the duties of the President when he is absent from his office. All of his duties fall upon you when you are called to serve in his place. When you are called upon to assume his duties necessarily <sup>also</sup> receive his authority. When he is present it is your duty to help him in every way possible. In electing you to this high office the club knew from your good work in the club that you had the ability and the will to carry out these responsibilities. The members wish you every success in your office.

Mr. Second Vice President, it will be your duty to serve in what ever duties that the First Vice President would have served had he been present. It will be your further duties to take a special interest in the activities of the club and assist the President in anyway possible. The club members know that you will enter into these duties whole heartedly and also know that they can expect great accomplishments from your office.

Financial
Mr. ~~Recording~~ Secretary, it is your duty to keep correct account between the members and the club. See that our members stay in good standing; and if a member becomes delinquent in ~~his~~ his dues see that he is notified and encouraged to keep his membership in good order and when possible prevent our losing a good member and the member losing the association of such an unselfish organization. ~~The club feels that it has chosen wisely in electing you to this important office.~~

Mr. Corresponding Secretary, it will be your duty to keep true and accurate minutes of all meetings of this club, to attend to all correspondence in a proper manner. The members wish you every success in this most important position.

your duty is also
Mr. Treasurer ~~your duty~~ is to have charge of the funds of this club, keep them honestly and secure, keep your accounts so as you can give a true and accurate ~~account~~ report when ever called upon. The club hopes that your ink is always blue.

Mr. Sergeant at Arms, it is your duty to always assist the presiding officer in maintaining order at the meetings. See to it that all members present are treated with courtesy. Your duties may be the most difficult but the club wishes you success.

INSPIRATION

Gentlemen you have been elected to the various offices of the La Salle Club for the coming year. It is my privilege to induct you into office.

In accepting office in this club you assume the leadership of a group of men, who are unselfishly devoting their time to improve the youth of America in general and those who have the good fortune of attending the Christian Brothers School in particular. Ordinarily men join such organizations for their own protection and benefit; in this club however you find men joining together solely for the good of their country and the boys of this school. It is for the good of the country because when you help develop a higher type of young manhood you are necessarily developing a higher type of nation, because any nation is just as good as the citizens that make up that nation, and of course the youth of today is the leader of tomorrow.

In assuming these duties you are undertaking work for which there will be no reward other than the self satisfaction of knowing that you have done a good service to the students of this school and the good Brothers who have unselfishly given their lives to the ~~raising~~ <sup>with</sup> developing of young men who will be morally, intellectually, and physically able to assume their place in the world, and to lead that world into a higher state of civilization.

The club appreciates your assuming these responsibilities and promises you our every cooperation that this year, inspite of the many handicaps which exist, may be our most successful.

THE PRESIDENT: My Brothers, the following named gentlemen now appearing before you, have signified their desire to affiliate themselves with the La Salle Club, and by their applications, have expressed their willingness to assume the responsibilities of membership in this club. (The President now names the new members).

THE PRESIDENT: Mr. Secretary, have you the applications of these prospective members, together with the fees and dues required by our laws?

THE SECRETARY: -answering "I have" or "I have not" (as the case may be, naming the exceptions)

THE PRESIDENT: My friends, having been appraised of the fact that you have properly, and in accordance with our laws, applied for membership in our organization, and the membership of our organization having accepted you as members, I desire to now direct your attention to the purposes of this club and to the reasons for its existence.

The La Salle Club is organized for the purpose of encouraging and aiding in the scholastic, social and educational accomplishments of the students of the Christian Brothers School in Sacramento. We have banded ourselves together to accomplish these purposes and to assist those students of the Brothers School who have entrusted their education to us. Tous

In addition to aiding in this work, this club is also organized to aid the Christian Brothers and their students in carrying out an athletic program which is so important in building the health of these student and is so essential in formulating within the finds and hearts of thest students a spirit of fair and clean sportsmanship. We believe that in the accomplishment of these purposes, we as citizens and fathers, have contributed something toward the upbuilding of the characters of these students, so that they ~~may~~ will someday become worthy citizens of our communitv.
