

Remember When...?

This was the graduating class 50 years ago, when Christian Brothers College was located at 12th and K Streets. From left, the class of 1925 consisted of Louis Gutenberger, Edward Conway, Francis Pausback, John Sullivan and William Hester, top row; Louis Slakey, William Metcalf, William Braun, Joseph Rooney and Robert Hook, center row; and Raymond Linkley, Harold Bunker, Louis Lagomarsino and Frank Lagomarsino, bottom row.

BEE

Tuesday, June 29, 1976

CBS Class Of '25 Meets Again

Eight members of the class of 1925 at Christian Brothers High School and one instructor were on hand for their 51st reunion. From left, front row, are Bill Metcalf, Frank Lagomarsino, Ed Conway and Brother Conrad, FSC, the last surviving faculty member of the old Christian Brothers School at 12th and K Streets. In back row are Lou Lagomarsino, Francis Pausback, Joe Rooney, Lou Slakey and Bill Braun.

Good Morning!

1925 Classmen Attend Reunion

By KIRT MacBRIDE

Eight members of the Christian Brothers School, class of 1925, showed up at the school reunion Tuesday night, joining some 500 other alumni in one of the biggest such reunions ever held here. The octet attended the Catholic school in three locations — 12th and K, 39th and J and 21st and Broadway. They were Joe Rooney, Louie Lagomarsino, Frank Lagomarsino, Lou Slakey, Ed Conway, William Braun, Bill Metcalf and Francis Pausbank.

A good deal of the anticipation of a 55-year reunion in 1980 by members of Christian Brothers High School's class of 1925 was blunted by the passing last week of William J. Braun.

With Bill gone, the ranks of the stalwarts have dwindled to seven — Ed Conway, Frank and Lou Lagomarsino, William Metcalf, Francis Pausback, Joe Rooney and Louis Slakey.

You can be sure that when they do get together, the first glass will be raised in toast to the quiet, silver-thatched Bill.